Dear Mr Brannon:

I am in receipt of your letter of Jan. 25th in which you asked about training conditions with The Eagles.

The ballclub pays all expenses of room board and laundry while the team is in camp, and room and board while the club is on the road during the season.

There are no salaries paid in camp, but the pay you receive for the season is enough to make it worth while going to camp. As you know ballplayers have to spend some time getting into condition. In the case of a man like you with responsibilities the ballclub will advance you enough money while you are in camp to take care of your expenses at home. I will pay you no less than $200.00 a month for the season to start. It is of course hard to say what a man is worth until you see him in action.

As things stand now we plan to start training the last week of March or the first of April. I will write you again the exact day. In the meantime, I will appreciate hearing from you again.

Very Truly Yours
